

Buy & Hold Real Estate Smart Contract Overview

Introduction

This overview summarizes the Real Estate Buy & Hold Smart Contract. It is intended to provide investors with a clear understanding of the structure, obligations, and benefits of participation. While not a substitute for the full legal contract, it is designed to ensure transparency and clarity.

Investment Framework

The contract establishes a pooled investment vehicle for rental property acquisitions and improvements. Eligible projects include multifamily developments, single-family homes, and value-add opportunities. Investor capital is deployed into properties that generate recurring rental income, with a focus on long-term stability and appreciation.

The contract is structured around a five-year holding period. During this time, properties are acquired, managed, and improved to maximize rental yields and long-term value.

Payouts and Returns

Unlike the Buy & Sell contract, which distributes dividends annually, the Buy & Hold contract provides monthly payouts to investors. These payouts are derived from rental income and are distributed pro rata based on each investor's deposit.

At the conclusion of the five-year holding period, investors are entitled to reclaim their capital along with any remaining proceeds from property sales or refinancing. This structure ensures both short-term cash flow and long-term value creation.

Value Proposition

The Buy & Hold strategy offers investors consistent monthly income while building equity in rental properties. Value-add improvements enhance property performance, increase occupancy, and strengthen long-term appreciation. By combining stable rental yields with strategic property management, the contract delivers both income and growth.

Investor Rights

Investors are entitled to:

- Monthly payouts proportional to their deposits.
- A share of final proceeds at the end of the five-year holding period.
- Transparent reporting on property performance and income distribution.

Company Obligations

The company is obligated to:

- Deploy capital exclusively into qualifying rental properties.
- Manage properties responsibly to maximize rental yields and long-term value.
- Ensure transparent reporting and timely monthly distributions.
- Return capital and final proceeds at the end of the holding period.

Conclusion

This contract overview is provided for transparency and clarity. It outlines the essential terms of the Real Estate Buy & Hold Smart Contract and highlights the value created through monthly income and long-term appreciation. The full legal contract governs all rights and obligations, and this overview should be read as a companion document to that agreement
